Good Day Louleen.

First of all, thank you for the prompt, friendly and accommodating service. It's been a while since I, as a customer, have felt more important than the sale. Secondly, many say their products work but then after the money is spent you are left with doubt and often regret. This for me is worth every cent spent as although the really cold and really hot days are still to come, the cold does not "BITE" us any more in the evenings or the mornings. And we, having a 15 month old girl who does not keep a blanket over her for more than 5 minutes, are now more at ease because the room is not unhealthily cold anymore.

As for payment, I will make the EFT this eve, or tomorrow morning for the latest and email you proof of payment.

Thanks again and have a blessed evening.

Regards,
Alan
